

Zooming Out: Australia's Changing Workforce

ANNUAL ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL POLICY LECTURE

Hon Stephen Jones MP – Member for Whitlam, Assistant Treasurer, and Minister for Financial Services – will deliver the Annual Economic and Social Policy Lecture of 2022.

Minister Jones's lecture will focus on Australia's changing workforce and its impact on productivity and innovation. As a result of the Covid-19 pandemic, the way people work has changed: workers are moving out of the cities and into the regions, many are enjoying more flexibility, and the online mode of doing business is becoming indispensable. However, these recent changes have also brought on new challenges, including the loss of intangibles resulting from casual 'water cooler chats'.

The annual lecture is organised by the Economics Discipline of the University of Wollongong. On this occasion, the Economic Society of Australia – New South Wales is co-organising the event. The Faculty of Business and Law of UOW is supporting the lecture via the Centre for Human and Social Capital Research.

EVENT DETAILS

The public lecture will take place on 30 September, Friday, from 13:00 to 14:30 AEST. It will be held in the Jillian Broadbent Building (Building 29), Room G10 at the main campus of the University of Wollongong.
